

Yom Shabbat Kodesh Hu

The day of Shabbat is holy
Happy is the man who keeps it
On wine he remembers it
And he has nothing to fear.
The purse may be empty with nothing in it
He should be happy and all will be well
If he has borrowed money
God will pay his debt!

Meat, wine and fish, he should not lack for any tasty foods.
If the three of these he has
This will be his reward
As he wishes to make the day special
Yosef opened a fish
And found precious jewels in its flesh!

If he has a laid table in front of him as it should be
An angel of God will answer with a blessing
This will be his set time
His enemies will be reduced to nought.

And the evil angel will answer Amen
Against his will he will sing his praises
His name will spoken off as fine oil.

Women should light the Shabbat candles,
Keep the laws of family purity and bake challot!
All of this will be to their benefit
For when the day of childbirth arrives
They will be protected and give birth quickly!

Give praise and song to the One that created Shabbat
He gave us the Torah that Moshe called a present
He placed it in His special treasure house
He has given it to us and we have taken it
Give it to the congregation that can be relied upon!

O the weary soul, when Shabbat comes, so does rest.
Be joyous, happy and delighted

It was blessed and sanctified with the manna
When it came down the people did not have to toil
The Shabbat revives the soul.

The statutes of Shabbat were given with stern warning
Like mountains on a thread the laws are constructed
Those that keep the its commandments will inherit
A day that is totally Shabbat-like.

This is the sign that God between Him and the children of Israel
And the seventh day is His
For every day we run and rush
But proof is our resting
Is the answer for those that ask.

My voice will be joined to the voices that are raised
At the time of singing the sound will be great
For like dew blessing will be showered upon us
But will not fall outside of my borders
Through song my worries will disappear
My song will be a comfort for me.
