

Zemer I'Shabbat Chanukah

Eat oily food and flour fried in oil,
Turtle doves and doves

Shabbat and Chanukah
Hey, hey, Bet Cor, go buy and acquire, hire a grain house for the rededication.

Meat that is plenty roasted on a spit and burnt as a sacrifice for those selected.
Hey, hey, Bet Cor ...

Fine and thin wafers made with oil, roasted on fire with matzot.
Answer and say amen and eat with speed
Hey, hey, Bet Cor ...

The calls are increasing for drawing the water, in the wine house we will stay twice each day.
Hey, hey, Bet Cor ...

The sound of rushing water is great, guard your ears and those that wish to press blood of grapes their mouths should be silent.
Hey, hey, Bet Cor ...

We remember Your mercy with song and joy that You saved your people from despair to hope.

You avenged our avengers at the hands of your trustworthy priests, to deny the Torah of our Lord the Greeks tried.

Your hand was outstretched from trouble to sweet times, so it was fixed for us the eight days of Chanukah.

To give thanks, praise and appreciation to the strength of our God to the rededication of our altar we remember in our days.

Your kindness should be a comfort to us as well as Your abounding kindness, the bread of Your statues should nourish us, with all our might we will recognise Your power.

Every day we will bless You, merciful redeemer with the saving of Your people we saw with our eyes.

Our God, You help the downtrodden; speedily redeem us. May the redeemer come to Zion speedily in our days.
